VARIOUS MATTERS

Outdoor workers, like painters and masons, find these days rather chilly.

There was the service of Holy Communion in the Episcopal churches on Thursday.

During this month the planet Mars is still seen, low in the west in the early evening.

The Connecticut board of examination and registration of nurses is to meet on Wednesday, June 1, at Hartford.

Eastern Connecticut tobacco men are expecting to set tobacco next week, evidently believing that the frosts are over.

Monday, May 16, is the date chosen for the semi-annual convention of the Connecticut Fire Chiefs' association in Ansonia.

When the sun shone on Thursday, lawns and shrubbery were beautiful, visitors expressing liveliest admiration of the city.

Chicken raisers in the eastern part of the state are losing many chicks by weasels, not measles, as stated on Thursday by a typographical error.

The shad hatchery apparatus was hauled up the river from Brockway's in the town of Lyme to its station on the Farmington river in Windsor Tuesday.

Game wardens are warning hunters that it is wrong to take bird dogs in the woods and let them run at this time of the year, as it disturbs nesting birds and breaks up their nests.

Members of the state barbers' commission are beginning to take action in regard to shops throughout the state which were not up to the mark when visited by the commissioners.

Forty days after Easter comes Ascension day, and on Thursday the churches observed the close of the forty days commemorating the time spent by Christ on earth after His resurrection.

All about the state comment is being made of the forwardness of the elms, which this year have been in leaf since April 25. So far they seem in good condition, the wet and cold having kept back the beetles.

State oyster growers are receiving notification of the second annual convention of the Oyster Growers and Dealers association of North America. It will be held in Norfolk, Va., on May 17 and 18, and will include from 300 to 400 persons.

On May 13 will be held exercises in the interest of world-peace in the schools throughout the country and in many countries of the old world, May 13, sometimes called Hague day, is the anniversary of the meeting of the first Hague conference, which opened on the czar's birthday in 1899.

New York, New Haven & Hartford trainmen have received instructions as to the ventilation of cars this summer. The trainmen were ordered to open the window in the rear of the car to prevent dust from coming in and to use care in seeing that there is always plenty of air in circulation.

Sword for Captain Grzywacz.

On Wednesday evening Leo A. Grzywacz was elected secretary of the Hartford Schuetzen Verein for the eighth consecutive year. Later in the evening Captain Grzywacz presented the secretary, who is a former Norwich man, with a sword. For a moment he showed deep feeling, his appreciation being expressed in these words, speaking figuratively of course: "So long as there is a drop of red blood in my veins this sword shall be used in defense of this organization."

The sentiment was heartily applauded. The sword, which is a handsome weapon, bears this inscription: "Presented to Capt. Leo A. Grzywacz from the Hartford Schuetzen Verein, May 1, 1910."

Deputy Presented Commission.

Mrs. Adella B. Walden of New London, who has been reappointed deputy for the department of communications of Protection, of Norwich, attended a session of that lodge Wednesday night when her commission was read by Supreme Trustee Ernest M. Newbury of Norwich. Past Warden C. Edward Cole and Treasurer Joseph T. Chapman of Huguenot lodge attended the meeting.

Final Rehearsal.

The finishing touches to "The Trustee" were put on at a final rehearsal in Olympic hall on Thursday evening, leaving the amateur cast of fifteen Norwich people fully prepared to put on a production that will win them many plaudits and swell the treasury of Open House, under whose auspices the play is given.

Changing Trolley Station.

The changes at the trolley waiting room on Franklin square which are to turn its rear end into the adjoining candy store are nearly completed. The partition with windows and door shutting off the front of the trolley station has been put up and the partition into the candy store has been cut through.

Property Sold.

N. Eugene Smith has purchased the double house Nos. 240-242 Laurel Hill avenue and will occupy one of the tenements. The property belonged to Miss Jane Hill and Mrs. J. H. Seldon.

The E. L. Maine farm on Hinckley Hill has been purchased by John J. Harrington. It contains twenty-five acres and he intends to conduct a chicken farm there.

Three Boys in City Court.

On Thursday morning three boys whose ages were 12, 9 and 6, were presented, charged with entering the Broadway church parsonage. They were given some good advice by Judge Brown and were placed in charge of the probation officer until July 1. The tools taken were recovered.

Assistant Financial Secretary.

Financial Secretary Everett B. Byles of Open House has recently appointed Charles G. Cobb for his assistant as authorized by the last business meeting of the club. Both young men are among the most enthusiastic and earnest workers for the club's interests.

North Stonington Garage.

Among the papers filed with the state secretary are the articles of association of the North Stonington garage, incorporated.

Fine View of Comet.

A fine view of Halley's comet was obtainable this morning soon after 3 o'clock in the clear eastern sky. It stood out brightly.

PIPE ORGAN WANTED
BY MASONIC BODIES.

To Be Located in Blue Lodge Room—Franklin Chapter Committee to Confer With Other Committees—Officers Appointed and Installed.

A pipe organ for the blue lodge room in Masonic temple is being advocated by the several bodies using that portion of the temple. It was discussed at considerable length at the convocation of Franklin chapter, No. 4, R. A. M., on Thursday evening, and the idea is said to be meeting with much favor among the several bodies using the lodge room. It would add greatly to the work of the organizations and be a pipe organ is to the asylum of the commandery, the idea being to have one similar to that. A committee consisting of Past High Priests Albert S. Comstock, James C. McPherson and E. Allen Bidwell was elected to confer with committees from other bodies as to the advisability of installing such an organ.

On Thursday evening High Priest F. Leon Hutchins completed his appointment as High Priest of the first wall, Archibald Mitchell, Jr., grand master of the second wall, Guy B. Dolbear, grand master of the third wall, Evans held the office of High Priest, and the High Priest E. Allen Bidwell, with Past High Priest Albert S. Comstock as grand captain of the host.

This year promises to be a big year in the chapter, there being a number of applications before the body, and High Priest Hutchins and his officers will have a busy term.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, A. O. H.

Gave Successful Whist at Hibernal Hall.

The ladies' auxiliary of the A. O. H. made their whist in Hibernal hall on Thursday evening a pleasant social affair and a financial success, having forty-two tables, playing from 8 to 10 o'clock. From then until midnight dancing was enjoyed, for which the Cadillac orchestra played, having also opened the evening with a well rendered concert programme.

The evening was under the general direction of Mrs. Mary A. Slinney, president of the auxiliary, assisted by the following as scorers: Miss Nellie T. Collins, Miss Katharine L. Slinney, Miss Katharine A. Brannan, formerly Miss Lillian M. Troy. Those who were awarded the prizes were the following:

First, Miss Elizabeth Bowen and John McGilley, both umbrellas; second, Miss Julia Connell and William Nolan, both boxes of handkerchiefs; third, Miss Nora Brock and Stanley McDonald, both boxes of writing paper; fourth, Miss Mary Dunn, a box of candy, and Michael J. Dwyer, a pack of cards.

OBITUARY.

Moses Fournier.

Moses Fournier, brother of Albert Fournier, died early Thursday morning. He had been sick for a long time. Mr. Fournier was 62 years of age, and is survived by his wife and daughter. He conducted a laundry business in Norwich, formerly having been associated for two years in the management of the Troy steam laundry in New London. Albert Fournier left in response to a telegram announcing his brother's death Thursday morning. There are three other brothers, Dr. Noel Fournier of Montreal, Alexander Fournier of New London and John Fournier of Springfield.

FUNERALS.

Fred Edwards.

At two o'clock Thursday afternoon the funeral of Fred Edwards, whose death occurred at the Norwich State hospital Tuesday, was held from No. 231 Bank street, New London. The body was sent to that city by Henry Allen & Son. Following the services burial was in the Jordan cemetery.

Shot a Horse.

On Thursday morning Humane Agent George H. Stanton was called to the home of Eli Niman in Summit street to shoot a horse valued at $150 which had broken a leg during the night.

The Japanese diet has cut out from $150,000 to $100,000 the appropriation asked for by the department of communications for the purpose of investigating hydro-electric potentialities in Japan. Meanwhile the fever of electric enterprise seems to be growing.

In Osaka no less than six electric railway projects are on the tapis, namely, one to Kyoto, three to Kobe, one from Nishinomiyama to Kobe, and one from Osaka to Nishinomiyama. Others are also talked of.

It Actually Kills Corns

Yes, SMITH'S KORN KILLER actually kills corns, warts and callouses, safely, surely and quickly.

Don't think just because it comes in a bottle and is applied with a brush that it is like other "corn killers," because it isn't—ours is a corn KILLER, and is better, stronger and quicker to act.

It is perfectly harmless when used as it should be, that is on the callouses or corn only—use it this way, wrapping the opposite toe with a thin muslin bandage and you will kill the corn every time and never suffer a particle of pain or inconvenience.

Price 20 Cents.

Letter Carriers' Association Social

Guests of Major W. A. Wells who has Just Completed Thirty Years as Postoffice Employee—Evening of Reminiscences

A delightful affair took place at the Wauregan house on Thursday evening, at the regular monthly meeting of the Letter Carriers' Association, when Major William Wells was the host and entertained in honor of the completion of thirty years in day service of Uncle Sam. On May 1st he started his thirty first year in the Norwich postoffice, having been carrier for many years, and he is now record clerk of the free delivery, being one of the most popular members of the local postoffice force.

They had as guests Postmaster Williams Caruthers and Assistant Postmaster Arthur J. Poole. Following the fine lunch, Major Wells acting as toastmaster, there was a general participation by the 22 in attendance, and reminiscences of the past were the evening. The younger carriers were given some idea of the hardships of the early days, when the office was not run on the system it is now and the employees were obliged to put in all kinds of hours, working until everything was done. It is 25 years since the free delivery was started in this city and under the present force but one carrier who was on the force then, Herman S. Case started in as a carrier and has been in the service ever since. Mr. Wells also started then, but he left the carrier job several years ago and is now record clerk.

Mr. Case is therefore the only carrier in the service over 25 years. Those who have been in for over 23 years are Emil A. Jahn and F. J. Murtha, while for 22 years Captain T. B. Linton, Captain James L. Kingsley and F. L. Allen have done active service. The rest have done duty ranging from 16 years to the youngest on the force. There are 17 regular carriers and five substitutes of service Postmaster Caruthers is the oldest, having been in the work for over 35 years. He had some interesting tales to relate, as did all the others. It was a jolly gathering, at which all were present except E. A. Jahn, who is sick.

The branch numbers 21 members, the 17 carriers and four ex-carriers—Major Wells, Edward S. Hinckley, M. J. Kelly and William E. Allen. This was the first branch formed in the state as a part of the National association, which has life insurance and sick benefits. Most of the new members have these benefits, there being life insurance from $3,000 down, and sick benefits of $3 a week. The local branch is in a flourishing condition. Thursday evening's jollification will be long remembered.

at one time heard Mrs. Williams scream after Mr. Williams had entered his home. The witness testified he had been married three times, and does not know where one of his wives is, and had been arrested for non-support.

Leo Williams, the son, testified that his parents had had trouble as long as he could remember. He said his father refused his mother an allowance of $1.50 a week because she wouldn't wash his underclothes on account of his condition. He said his father drank to excess, and he had heard his father tell his mother she was but a servant and that they could each go their own way.

Mrs. Williams was not called to the witness stand at all. The evidence being completed, Attorney Geary made his argument, which was completed at 4:15 and court was then adjourned until this morning, when, after the short calendar session, the remaining arguments will be made.

NORWICH ELKS INITIATED ELEVEN.

Committee Offers Advice and Smaller One Will Carry Out Plans on Home.

Norwich lodge, No. 430, B. P. O. E., held lengthy session on Thursday evening in Pythian hall, initiating eleven into the lodge and hearing several reports. Exalted Ruler Frank G. Aubrey presided.

Further reports were received on the recent bazaar, but the complete financial returns are not yet in. It is known, however, that the $4,000 which has been named as the proceeds, will be reached.

There was also a report from the committee of twenty-one, which had been divided into sub-committees to take into consideration the fixing up of the Osgood property as the Elks' home. It was stated that the meeting of all the sub-committee reports were advisory and that nothing definite was determined. The committee of twenty-one was thanked and discharged. It was voted to have a new committee of nine which shall proceed with the alterations and preparations of the home. The committee of nine is to be appointed by Exalted Ruler Aubrey.

BACTERIA IN HAY
CAUSED THE FIRE.

Theory of Professor Eldred, a Witness in Suit Against Central Vermont Road.

Spontaneous ignition for which bacteria in hay was responsible was the theory advanced by Prof. B. E. Eldred of New York in the United States circuit court at New Haven Thursday, a witness for the Central Vermont Railroad company in a $40,000 damage suit brought by Robbins & Patterson of Norwich, whose icehouses at Stafford were burned. The plaintiff set up that the fire started from locomotive sparks. Professor Eldred said he thought that when grass was cut for hay the bacteria in it lives and multiplies, and after the hay was packed into the icehouses the bacteria produced a condition which made spontaneous ignition possible.
